Highlights in this release

Improved traceability for Auto upload and Auto delivery events

Job history now shows more information about these automatic delivery methods.

Example: Successful Auto upload, showing which connection profile was used and how many files were included

Additional filter option in Job archive: Job type

You can now filter on Job type in the job archive. Which is just another way of repeating the info in the header above. Sorry about that. Here's a screenshot!
